

Sunday School Humor.....

The SS teacher asked, "Can anyone name the Roman emperor who was most notorious for persecuting the early Christians?"

"Nero," promptly responded one youngster.

"That's right. What were some of the things he did?"

"He tortured the prisoners in Rome."

"And do you know how he tortured them?"

"He played his fiddle."

Little Johnny approached his teacher after class with a question: "If the people of Israel were Israelites and the people of Canaan were Canaanites, do we call the people living in Paris parasites?"

The Faithful

The following speech, delivered 27 years ago by a great man, is still the heart call of caring Americans today. This Memorial Day, let us take time out from the cookouts, ball games, the fun festivities to remember with both sadness and pride, those who were called to lay down their lives for this nation.

That is a debt we can't repay.

"Memorial Day is a time to take stock of the present, reflect on the past, and renew our commitment to the future of America.

Today, as in the past, there are problems that must be solved and challenges that must be met. We can tackle them with our full strength and creativity only because we are free to work them out in our own way. We owe this freedom of choice and action to those men and women in uniform who have served this nation and its interests in time of need. In particular, we are forever indebted to those who have given their lives that we might be free.

I don't have to tell you how fragile this precious gift of freedom is. Every time we hear, watch, or read the news, we are reminded that liberty is a rare commodity in this world.

This Memorial Day, we honor those brave Americans who died in the service of their country. I think an ancient scholar put it well when he wrote: 'Let us now praise famous men . . . All these were honored in their generation, and were the glory of their times. Their bodies are buried in peace; but their name liveth for evermore.' As a tribute to their sacrifice, let us renew our resolve to remain strong enough to deter aggression, wise enough to preserve and protect our freedom, and thoughtful enough to promote lasting peace throughout the world." --President Ronald Reagan, May 26, 1983

Worry is like a treadmill. It wears you out and gets you nowhere.

What happens when you worry? You bring tomorrow's difficulty into today. God didn't give you grace for tomorrow's difficulties. He only gives you grace for today. When you reach into tomorrow's troubles, you overload today's circuit.

Worry doesn't take the sorrow out of tomorrow; it takes the strength out of today. When you meet tomorrow, you're out of breath because you're already overloaded from today. Worry, therefore, does not make you ready for the future, it really makes you unready. Yesterday is just a canceled check. Tomorrow is a promissory note. Today has all the cash you can handle. Spend it wisely.

Worry will eat your lunch! It'll eat your breakfast and dinner, too! Confess your worries as sin. Put your concerns at the throne of Almighty God, trusting Him to provide. --Love Worth Finding

Assurance in Jesus

May Jesus assure you that as you follow Him.....

you will never meet a fear He cannot conquer,
 you will never face an enemy He cannot defeat,
 you will never enter a battle He cannot win,
 you will never have a need He cannot meet,
 you will never face a temptation He cannot overcome,
 you will never have a burden He cannot lift,
 you will never face a problem He cannot solve,
 you will never have a bondage He cannot break,
 you will never have a moment when He does not care,
 you will never have a time when He is not there.--Roy Lessin
