

A coworker stormed into my friend's office, yelling, "Did you tell Katie that I was a dope?" Stunned my friend sputtered, "Uh...no...I don't know how she found out."

"I think we need to change the morning hymn," said the minister to the song leader. "My topic this morning is gossip, and I don't think 'I Love to Tell the Story' would be the best song."

If you are a child of God and you marry a child of the devil, you will be sure to have trouble with your father-in-law.

Those who say that they are just as good as half of the folks in the church seldom specify which half.

When Your Well Runs Dry

Like the Samaritan woman who met Jesus at the well, we can at times be so intent on getting our immediate needs met that we fail to see God's hand reaching out to us in love, offering what will truly satisfy. Only Christ can fill our empty souls for eternity and provide for our essential emotional needs now.

This world is filled with wells that promise to provide love, acceptance, and self-worth but never fully satisfy. When your soul is empty and the well runs dry, look for Jesus. He has a divine appointment scheduled with you, and He will quench your thirst with His Spirit....if you let Him. --Rev. Charles Stanley

Rejoice and be glad!

We're living in the Information Age (some might call it the useless information age). Giant social networking Web sites, like Facebook, MySpace, and Twitter, allow their users to share their deepest thoughts or shallowest feelings with friends and strangers on virtually any subject.

Twitter's concept is the simplest of all. Users can give 140-character opinions on any issue. These updates are called "tweets."

Wonder what the apostle Paul would have tweeted to his followers when he was writing his thirteen preserved epistles. His tweets might have looked like this:

Romans: "All have sinned. All deserve death, but there is no condemnation in Christ."

1 Corinthians: "A divided church is a poor representative of Christ."

2 Corinthians: "My apostleship and your benevolence are genuine."

Galatians: "Moses' law served its purpose. We now live by faith and walk by the Spirit."

Philippians: "Don't let circumstances dictate your faith. Live with joy. Be content."

Colossians: "Human philosophy distorts the gospel. Live for Jesus."

1 and 2 Thessalonians: "Jesus will return and many people will not be ready. Be prepared for that day."

1 and 2 Timothy: "Ministry should protect the gospel and serve the needy. There is no better work."

Titus: "The grace of God teaches us to live godly lives."

Philemon: "People from all backgrounds can be useful in the church."

Ladies, there is a basket in the foyer for gifts for Amber and Nick Williamson's expected baby girl (Kaitlyn). She is registered at Target and WalMart.

My voice shalt thou hear in the morning,
 O LORD; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up."
 Psalm 5:3

Praise Reports:

Sande Osborn's brother-in-law, Bill Briggs, had a successful surgery for a 100% blocked artery. He is doing well and will soon be able to have additional surgery to apply stents to the legs and kidneys.

Bubba Benton had a good report recently in his blood count, and we praise the Lord for his improvement. Continue to keep both of these in your prayers.

Great News! Becky Breland graduated from nursing school this week, and we're so proud of her.

Food costs money, lasts only a short time, and meets only physical needs. But God offers us free nourishment that feeds our soul. How do we get it? We need only come and partake. God's salvation is freely offered, but to nourish our souls, we must eagerly receive it. We will starve spiritually without this food as surely as we will starve physically without our daily bread.
 --Life Application Bible

"Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come buy wine and milk without money and without price." Isaiah 55:1
